Pre-Hash Circle.

A cooler and breezy day greeted the Hashers at Khao Nokkrachib.

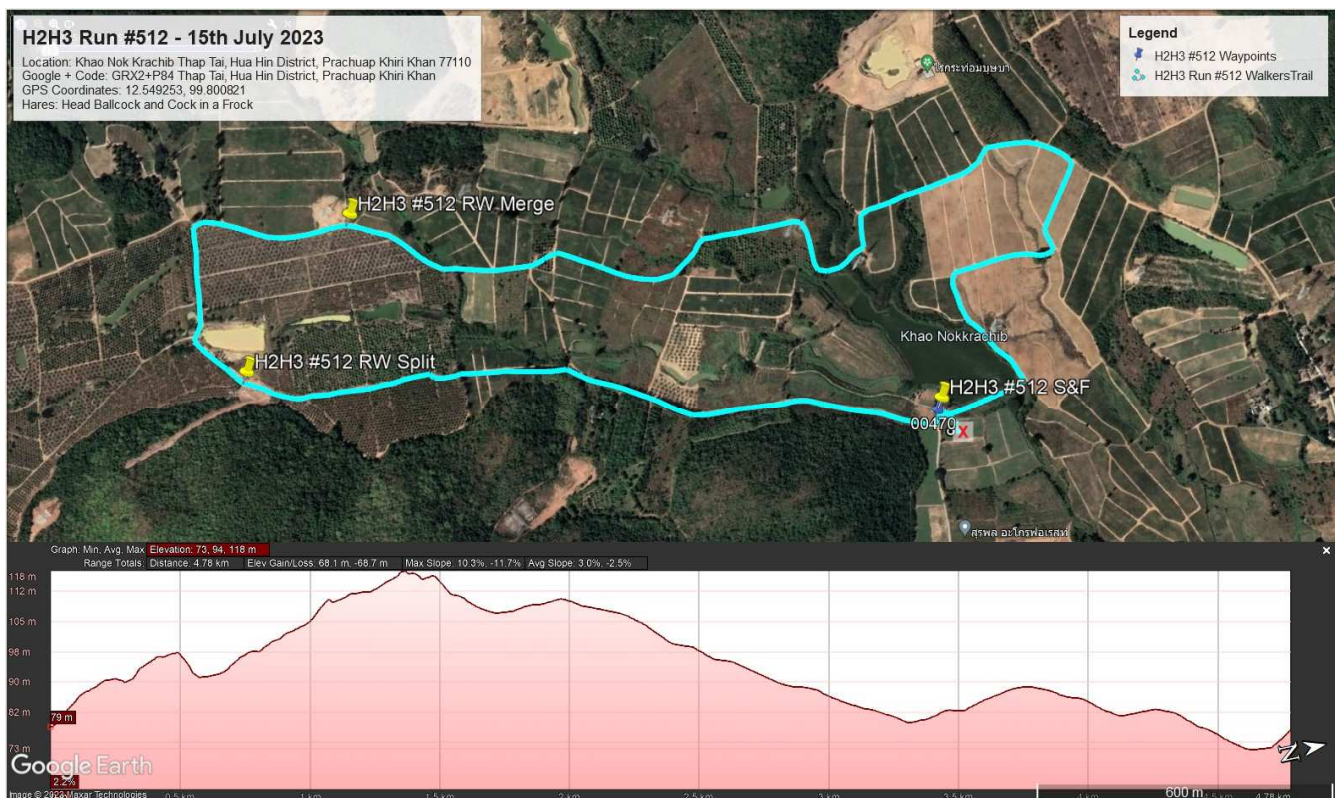

It was good to see some families attending and the flat trails made it attractive for the kids.

The Hares announced that there were two trails a runners @7.9km and a walkers @4.9km.

The Trail

Both trails had scenic views from the higher ground, of the surrounding hills and valleys.

Unfortunately, this time of year is Spikey Ball time and the first section of trail, had more than its fair share. These little perishers stick to any exposed clothing, to which they come in contact, and they can be painful to remove. However, this was the only hazard found on the trail.

The walkers generally, were back to the start in good time, despite some claims that the trail was only 4km long. This did not accord with other hashers devices which confirmed 4.9km. Thirsty short cutters spring to mind. Mudman in cracking form was first runner home in well under the hour.

Post Hash Circle, Down Downs (Contribution by Tinks).
