

Wet Hares view

Two hares associated with water of a kind, one a duck, one a pisshead, put them together and what do you get ... wet.

Yet again what do you get from this infamous duo...wet (remember September last year).

In saying this, a handful of foolhardy hashers took to the challenge of the wet heads, they should have known better....fools.

A wet hash day morning, ah not a problem, the rain will stop soon and the pre-laid, now wet paper, can soon be rectified.

Oh..no.. two hours of relaying paper, two wet hares at the pre circle and the rain now back, all the hashers found a trail of sorts...fools

All the fun of the hash , mud ok, water deep not ok, long grass definitely not ok. The rain a no no. But the perverse fun a yes yes. With the rain back with a vengeance all found home to a beer and a cheer and another yes yes. Even if it was only in response to Hungover chanting On On

A big thank you to you all wet heads from the wet head hares for taking part.

Swindlers Pissed / Rubber Duck