Pre-Hash

The last run of 2015 saw 65 Hashers gather opposite the Sam Phan Nam Floating Market in fine weather. The Hares were called to advise the gathered pack of the joys to be found on this particular trail, burrs to cause itchy feet, no cows or dogs, three trails, all flat, a short walk of 3.5 k, a long walk of 6.5 k and Run/Rambo of 8.8 k. The pack included 3 visiting Hashers from Malaysia, a one off visit by Auntie Climax and some returners. The pack eventually got away shortly after 4:30 and headed east in search of paper.

It was a good start with the majority of the pack heading to far eastwards looking for paper resulting in an about turn when the true trail was found and through the itchy grass to the first check. This was broken fairly quickly and the front runners were away until the next check. At this point Tinks had caught up and went in search of trial. Rather than follow Tinks Auntie Climax opted to go looking elsewhere. This was a mistake as Tinks called the on on and it was away to the Short walk split, being 1.5 km from the start. Another 600 metres and the non-short walkers arrived at the long walk split leaving the runners to follow trail for another 3.9 km to later merge with the long walk trail. What was that the Hares said about flat trails? Far from the truth as the trail took a devious right turn and headed uphill and down the other side. See the elevation profile below. Hare Hugs was on station at this point but was not in view when Tinks and Old Macdonald overran the right turn, but made an appearance as we backtracked looking for paper.

The runners trail as logged by Tinks

Once over the hill Tinks pulled away from Old Mac and caught up with Brambles and David Keys. The trail was a little difficult to follow as we headed west into the setting sun and eventually meeting the long walk merge point at the corner of the water filled excavation. From here it was round the excavation and onto a new graded road before a sharp right by a newly planted pineapple field. Tinks and Brambles overshot the trail into the woods after which it was fairly easy going to the short walk merge point and onward until the trail headed into thick overhead cover and darkness. Upon exiting the dark stretch Tinks and Brambles came across Hare Cathusalem who after a photo shoot headed us in the right direction. From this point on it was fairly easy going back to the finish. The runners trail proved to be longer than expected resulting in the tail enders arriving some 90 minutes after starting. Old Macdonald eventually arrived back last just under 2 hours.

Post Trail and Circle

As a result of Old MacDonald arriving late the circle was late starting and Tinks proceeded to issue the following down downs:

On After

As it was the last run of the year some 70 hshers and guests gathered at Sabai Sabai Restaurant to continue with the festive season's celebration. Entertainment was provided by various hash members including Cathusalem, Pussy Glore, Miss Snickers, David Delayed, Karaoke Queen, Fish Fingers, Just Cause, Peter Angus, and apologies if I have forgotten anyone else. Thanks to you all.

Tinks was then invited in to say a few words prior to the Lucky Draw. A special thanks was given to Jock Twat and Maggie for an excellent job over the past two years delivering the beer to the hash and they were rewarded with their favourite beer and tipple. Also mentioned was Butt Out for turning up with ice to get the beer cold and in turn the rest of the mis-management were paraded, Miss Snickers, Cathusalem, Scotch Tape, Brambles, Mudman and Hugmanannygoat all of which received a bottle of beer. This was then followed by the lucky draw of which 12 attendees received prizes.

Finally before handing over to our organisers for the evening, Hugmnannygoat, Davey Delayed and Jock Twat Tinks dropped a bombshell by advising that he would be stepping down from the committee as it was back to work. Despite this dampener the party continued until midnight when the last went home.
