Pre-Hash

The start of a new era with new GM Legs Wide Open. The weather was being kind with no rain. The earlybirds to the Hash could not locate the run site as no sign or Hare to be seen. However, the GPS coordinates provided a clue and so the choice was park on the gravel road or in the long grass. The underground condition was firm so should be no problem with stuck vehicles. As start time approached the attendance increased to 32 by the time are new GM called the pre-hash circle to order and welcomed everybody to run number 390 and introduced the Hares, or should I say Hare as Screwdriver was passed over by lead Hare Bent Banana and only given the task of arranging the On After. The pack were advised of three trail, short walk (3.5 k), long walk (5.8 k) and Rambo (7.8 k), with no hazards or wet muddy areas. With the briefing over the pack were sent on their way a few minutes ahead of time.

The Trail

The trail went left down the road from the start before breaking right into grassland and leading out on to a road. A right turn towards a freshly laid concrete road to nowhere, but workers were in attendance to be sure we did not leave any footprints in the fresh concrete. Breaking left again into grassland with a few checks keeping the FRB's busy on route to the short walk split 2.3 km from the start. Several hounds opted to take this option with the rest completing another 1 km to the run walk split. At this point my sole companion was Hollow Legs who opted to take the walk. As I set off on the Rambo trail Hollow legs advised me of the merge point which was inly 50metres away. Tempted to do a 180 I chose not to and continued on the Rambo trail. Several checks on route and some very deviously hidden paper at trail options which may have lead to some of the FRB's loosing trail. Thanks to the FRB's breaking the checks but leaving the paper trail to the false trail was a bit much for the tail end Charlie (Tinks). After 3.2 km on the Rambo trail I joined the long walk trail for the homeward stretch joining the short walk trail after another 1.2 km and arriving home to beer and snacks after another 1 km trek. Maybe about time I considered joining the long walk trails in future so as not be rear ending every week.

Post Trail and Circle

Some chat from the FRB's, Rainbow Balls, Oui Oui and Brambles about losing the trail although I found the paper trail easy to follow (less haste more speed) but they still made it home before me. Traditional snacks from Lost Cause were being eagerly consumed and washed down with ice cold beer. With darkness setting in GM Legs Wide Open called the circle to order after a thankyou for attending started the first DD awards to the Hares, Bent Banana and Screwdriver for having laid good trails with the approval of all. Lost Cause was in next for Hash Snacks followed by Hoover the newly appointed Bierfrauline. Next were No Name Tony, Pussy Galore and Loose Screw for shenanigans on trail. A call for returner Ringmaster went unanswered as he had already left with Ballbanger. Next in were visitors Rainbow Balls (Yangon Hash), Hawkeye (Pattaya Hash) and Biggus Dickus (Pattaya Jungle Hash).

Rainbow Balls is becoming more of a regular visitor due a certain lady friend at the Hyatt Hotel. He was also subjected to an inquisitive Q&A session from Lost Cause as to how he got his name. Although

GM Legs was doing well keeping the pack entertained some private circles were ongoing and so Mudman and FRB were chastised for their discretion. New Hua Hin resident Leif Simbu (Ex Cairo Hash) was welcomed to the fold and encouraged to join our happy band. Finally, next week's Cha-Am Hash Hares, Smelly Fingers and Ahmedashed advised Chilli Bordello as the venue and given a closing DD. But before total disbandment GM Legs called for a volunteer scribe but there were no takers, so your truly took on the role. Beware more pressure tactics may be in force in future weeks from our Scribe Chaser Lost Cause, punishment may be worse than scribing

On After

As I did not attend the On After at the Bann Suan (Isan) Restaurant I have nothing further to add.
