Pre-Hash Briefing

A return to the familiar Chom Phol Road but this time the venue was close to the Masjid Nurul Ehsan Mosque and the trails laid by Virgin H2H3 Hares Scrotum Head and Black Buttocks. When Cock in a Frock and I arrived stand in Biermeister Mudman was already in place and being assisted by FRB in setting up the cold boxes. The additional beverage stock delivered by CiaF was unloaded and the cold boxes packed. A few trip hazards around the car park area but no damaged tyres. The gathered hounds were called together for the Hares pre-hash briefing. No hazards on trail, a few checks, possibly a false trail or two, no barbed wire fencing to cross. Maybe the odd dog but not a problem. Landmarks to look out for should you feel lost the Mosque Minarets and the Black & White water tower.

The Trail

With the briefing over the pack set off up the dirt road in a westerly direction and then left and then right to the first check. This proved quite challenge with hounds scattered over a large area looking for trail. Hare BB was enjoying watching the pack looking everywhere and finding the false trail until eventually the true trail was found well hidden off the main track we had just come up. The trail then continued in a westerly direction until reaching the base of the frequented same Dam Place. Here the trail followed the base of the dam to the short walk trail split to the right. The main trail continued northwards and the swung round to the right and to another check. This also proved to be a time-consuming check until the ON ON was called to the left and up onto the dirt road and the run/walk split. The Rambo trail headed off to the left and the walkers to the right. The Rambo trail skirted the western side of the lake and it was part way along here that Sassenach decided she should be on the walk and not the Rambo trail and so together with Scaly Back headed back to the RW split which they had missed. The trail continued on a wide-open dirt road before breaking right into scrub land and then back out onto another wide dirt road and eventually the Rambo trail reunited with the walker's trail. The trail departed from the dirt road and wandered through more trees and then back on a wide dirt road through the Muslim area

On After

Around 20 or so Hashers made their way to The Katoon Restaurant on Soi 2 and enjoyed good food and cheap beer. Some cashing in on the bucket deal and taking the undrunk bottles home.
