NUMBER OF HASHERS: 59

Pre-Hash

A good turn out on this fine sunny day, maybes summit to do with the fact that this was the first H2H3 "Leap Year Run" that has fallen on a Saturday. The previous February 29th Saturday occurrence was 1992. Who can forget that momentous year? That was the year the United Kingdom came second place in the Eurovision Song Contest and of course, Wayne's World was number one at the box office. Any hashers who think they might be around for the next one put a note in your diary for 2048.

Briefing

Spook & Tinks gave the usual spiel, barbed wire, coos, rabid K9's etc etc. We were told that ol' chesnut, you should have been here last week, the sugar cane was as hi' as an elephants eye (we were standing in an empty field). But the most memorable thing about the brief was Spook's pink shorts.....nicel.

The Trail

The direction of On On was indicated, taking us to the bridge over the river. This is where the first paper would/could be found. On arrival at the bridge we were confronted by a check. Spreading out in every direction and after several minutes looking in vain for paper we were helped out by hare Tinks who hollered "Look for paper" Gee-wiz! Without that sage advice we might be there now, still wandering around aimlessly looking for paper.

Eventually the trail was found. We meandered down the river bank with uncut cane fields to our left. Taking a turn away from the river we were confronted by a ditch/ravine. Some foolhardy brave hashers opted to leap over the obstacle, some grumpy old hashers (surely not?) was heard to mutter "Thought it wer' a leap year hash, not a leaping bleedin' chasm hash"

All around us there were smoldering fields where the farmers were using the ol' slash and burn technique as prohibited by the government (mental note - must include a respirator in hash kit) At a pineapple field as yet surviving the scorched earth policy was the run/walk split. The "fun-police" aka hares Spook & Tinks materialized making sure no hashers were enjoying themselves too much (hmmmm!.....still thinking about those pink shorts)

After the walk run merge we were greeted to the sight of several fields ablaze, flames stretching across the horizon. Smoke billowing from the fires could be seen for miles. The smoke was so bad, half-pint size eco-warrior Greta Thunberg would have been reaching for the organic smelling salts and calling for a complete ban on all farming.

Well done the hares for a very good trail.

Post Run & Circle

Thirsts quenched, the usual banter & balloxx ensued only stopping for the excellent vitals supplied by Miss Snickers. They were so popular that she even brought a heavie along to ensure portion control.

As all good things must come to an end, GM called the circle to a loose semblance of order.

Down Down Awards (by Tinks)

Spook & Tinks: The Leaping Hares - thumbs up to both the walk and Rambo trails.

Spook & Tinks: The Haberdashers.

Ding-a-Ling: A Pussy Peddler joke aimed at Tinks chicken farm about a Cock, a Poulet and an Ass

Blowjob: Irish joke .

Donga: Television aerials on the roof joke.

Butt Out & Rubber Duck: Next week's Hares, location the old quarry on the Pala-U Road opposite the driving school and 4 km marker.

On After

The On After was at a restaurant a short drive before the by-pass. As an untried venue for the hash, the staff coped very well. Good service and delicious food. Big thanx should go to Loose Screw for ensuring the smooth flow of both beer and solids.

As mentioned earlier, the next time February falls on a Saturday is year 2048, probably the same year that Coronavirus is eradicated and the same year that England wins the world cup (well.....one out of two aint bad)

Always remember; never let the truth get in the way of a good story.

That's all folks
