Pre-Run

With it being party day Mudman had agreed to take this into account and with a 3 o'clock start returned to a previously used site south of 112 and located by a flooded excavation site located between The Prestige Hua Hin and La Lua Resort Hua Hin. However, there is only one access route to the site despite what Google Maps may advise and so the warning from Mudman to follow written misdirection's and not rely on the desktop monkey had some hashers ending up having to make some lengthy back tracking. The dirt road to the site was also being used by tucks at the time making the going a little rough for SUV's and more so for cars. A good number of hashers arrived, 39 in total, for the early start.

The weather was kind and not so hot and with no rain for several days the prospect of dry trails. The Hares briefed the pack on what to expect, usual markings, paper on the right, a few checks, a Rambo/Walker split, a warning of a trip hazard, possibility of some cows so walk do not run, a barbed wire fence crossing and that was about it.

The Trail

The pack set off round the lake heading east and then south. Suddenly I found myself the only person still at the car park and with no one to guard the beverage boxes I had no option but to stay. Kuckily Scrotum and Black Buttocks (BB) arrived and so I handed my GPS to BB to get some feedback on the trail. After about twenty minutes Pussy Peddler returned with both his boots in tatters, trouble of being stuck in UK for 18+ months. This gave me an opportunity to go out on trail with a mind to cut across country and return back within forty minutes or so. The trail having navigated the lake broke right into bush land and eventually came close to a dirt road. Having missed the right turn I was off trail and had to back track having found no paper on the road. From the GPS tracking Scrotum and BB had made the same mistake, although for some reason the GPS didn't track the first 1.2 km. From here the trail wanders through bushland and trees to arrive on a wide gravel road. At this point the trail continued over and skirted pineapple fields. It was at this point I broke off trail and headed towards the hill and alongside a solitary villa. I then saw Onefer skirting round the hill and so continued on my plan and joined the true trail. At one point I could see the cars and lake and so headed in a more direct line and again rejoined the trail at the barbed wire crossing and continued on trail to the finish. The front runners were arriving at the same time with walkers following not so far behind.

Pre-Circle and Circle Down-Downs:

A little back chat about the Google, but one should be aware that google selects options to the meet point coordinates and not necessarily the route provided by the Hares which is proven to be vehicle friendly whereas Google chooses the more direct route which due to developments and overgrowing vegetation are no longer passable for any vehicle as some Hashers found out. A few beverages and snacks killed that conversation and more jovial conversations were had. As it was party day GM Donga called the post run circle and proceeded to award the following Down Downs:

Hares: Mudman and Puss in Boots – a thumbs up vote for good trails.

Returners: Pussy Peddler, No Name Michael, Simby Family (Jan, Claudia, Ebba and Troy), Swindlers Pissed.

Virgin Hashers: Joop and Yaneepan – introduced to the Hash by Cock in a Frock and welcomed to the Hash by Pussy Peddler with the usual questions. Hopefully we will see them again.

Jokers: Pussy Peddler and Head Ballcock.

Leavers: GM Donga and Honeymoon to OZ and hopefully will be back soon rather than later if Covid Travel restrictions are favorable.

Bag Carrier: Swindlers Pissed.

Shortcutting: Donga

There were other DD's but I was otherwise distracted and did not have my trusty recording switched on.

Next Week's Run: Tinks acted as messenger for Hares Onefer and Hollowlegs advising the run will be on Boxing Day Sunday 26th December at the Billabong on Springfield Road Route 1010.

Post-Circle and On After

With the circle over hashers started departing in readiness for the evening party at Sabai Sabai scheduled for a 6:30 pm start. A few others continued to quench their thirst before departing sometime after 5 pm.

More than 50 arrived at Sabai Sabai for the end of year party, with both a Pig Roast and Buffet together with entertainment from, Dave the Vape, Cathusalem, Pussy Peddler and a Raffle handled by Head Ballcock and Hong Ting Tong. An enjoyable evening had by all despite Covid restrictions applying.
