Scribe: Tinks

Number of Hashers: 40

Pre-Run

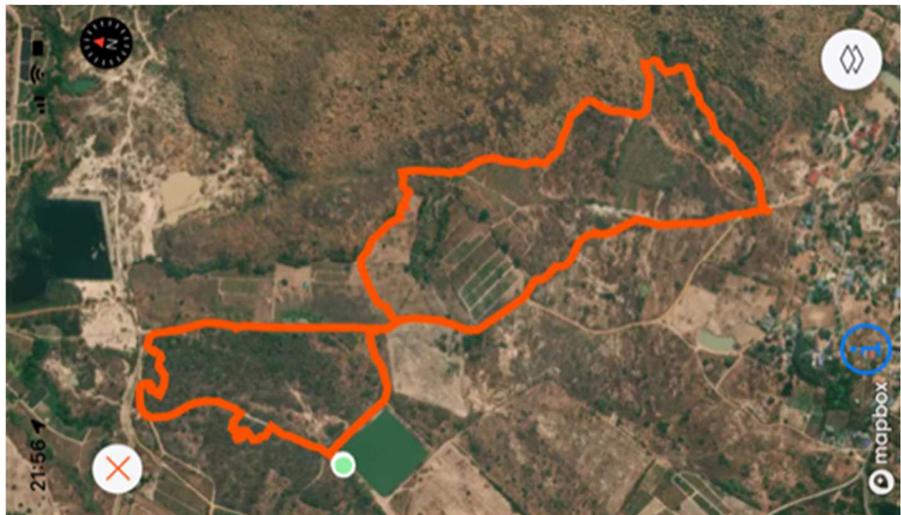

A popular location with plenty of shelter and a view overlooking water and the hills to the east. As the start time approached the pack had grown to 35 + with the usual late arrivals arriving after the pack had left. The Hares. Butt Out and Pussy Peddler briefed the pack on what to expect on the trail. Paper on the right, no checks. at one point for about 50m paper will be on both sides this is because you will be passing back on one section of the out trail. No dogs. not likely to meet any cattle and no barbed wire and only one split.

The Trail

Trail completed by Cock in a Frock

The pack set out heading east along the side of the lake and then turned right along a gravel road and past new high fencing with razor wire on the top and some new excavation on the right before bearing left towards the hill and circling round the newly fenced compound to return back onto the gravel road and then head south to the run walk split. The walkers heading off through the trees and the runners continuing on the road. After the merge point the trail meandered through the bush to come out on another gravel road and then back to the carpark.
