Misdirections and signs to the run site were perfect, even the weather looked kindly on the assembled pack.

The normal diehards were bolstered by visitors from Norway, Bangkok and a Scots couple newly retired here from Hong Kong. There was a special welcome for a Thai Virgin, Pu Ka and likewise a special welcome back to Hard Drive (Ning Hayden). Because of so many newbies, the Hares gave an extensive run briefing, then we were off along the beach, past the fishing boats, through the village then up the many steps to visit the Buddha on the hill.

Beautiful views from the top allowed the pack to get their breath back. Down again to the beach through another village and on to the roads. We passed some very nice country side, unfortunately on tarmac, then round the lake, back onto the beach and then a well deserved drink in the carpark. Plenty of down downs for the Virgins, visitors and misbehaviors and a special thanks to Colossus, the Cha Am RA for providing good weather. The general opinion said it was a good run, the Hares even arranged a couple of snakes to liven up the runners trail.

After the circle we walked to the shore side restaurant for a very reasonable meal and drink.
