WRITE-UP

Carpark was easy to find, well signed but very wet and slippery for the bikes. The lead Hare, Jock Twat started the briefing with the usual muddy ground, no cows, no barbwire etc, he then was questioned about false trails and checks. Tinks answered by showing an A4 piece of paper that represented a sign. When questioned again he was extremely vague. So off went the Herd. The terrain was flat and scenic, the herd bunched up at the first check with the paper hard to find, then ON ON. The walkers encountered a slight speed bump through some nice wooded area with good views over the countryside. After about 400m the leading walker Donny, also a first time Hasher, came back down the trail and said he had found no paper but a sign on a tree. Yanky Crank went on and found the sign which said "Back Check" so back down the trail, now the confusion started, some went on the correct long walk trail, some took the short walk trail and someone went, the wrong way, on the runners trail. To add to the confusion the "Back Check" sign had been removed and when the runners came through they went even further up the false trail. No other problems ensued and the ON IN was a pleasant ending to a good trail.

CIRCLE NOTES

Tinks was asked to belatedly answer the question he dodged at the pre-run circle as to how many splits there were. For this omission, he was awarded an extra down-down beer to the ones awarded to himself and Jock Twat for what all agreed had been an excellent trail with two splits for the runners trail and two more for the short walk.

Sodomy, Hong Kong Dong and Suzy Dong were down-downed as Returners as were Swindlers Pissed and Hungover, who were then invited to sit on the ice because neither was wearing a hash shirt. Hungover should have had an extra down-down for being a front runner for a while but that got forgotten as the two miscreants started gyrating on the ice (see photos).

Meanwhile, Pussy Galore should have had a down-down for arriving late and driving her car through the pre-run circle but that got forgotten too as, in her usual style, she livened up the circle and it almost became group sex on the ice (photo censored). The rest of the circle included down-downs for Legs Wide Open for tasty snacks and Butt Out & Screwdriver, next week's hares.

ON AFTER

21 hashers attended the On After at Sabai Sabai. This is the exact number as recorded by the GM, who had announced at the pre-circle (when calling for numbers) that "this year the subsidy for the Christmas party will be based on attendance both at Runs and On Afters starting today".
